

Santa Fe County Extension Office

Temporary Position Available: ICAN Nutrition Educator

Job Summary:

Working with under-resourced populations in New Mexico, the nutrition educator will deliver evidence-based education from a curriculum; recruit for future training sessions, and document activities. On-the-job training and food safety certifications are provided.

Minimum Qualifications:

- High School diploma or GED certificate
- Two (2) years of experience related to the job duties (education, food service, community action/advocacy, etc.)

Preferred Qualities & Experience:

- Computer skills
- Cooking, budgeting, and food safety skills
- Excellent verbal and written communication skills
- Attention to detail
- Ability to maintain accurate records and reports
- Knowledge of local community assets, resources, and systemic gaps.
- Bilingual (ability to read, write and speak Spanish and English-languages) preferred

Job Hours: 29 hours per week, flexible schedule.

Flexible work schedule based on needs of hiring department. May include some evenings and weekends.

Join our team!

For questions or to apply contact:

Michelle Stizza

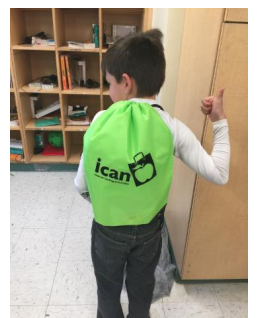

ICAN County Supervisor

Tele: (505) 471-4711

Email: mstizza@nmsu.edu

BE BOLD. Shape the Future.
College of Agricultural, Consumer and Environmental Sciences
Cooperative Extension Service

New Mexico State University is an equal opportunity employer and educator. NMSU and the U.S. Department of Agriculture are cooperating.